Intro:

Cathy: Ok Cass, we've been dying to hear your infamous horror story, let's hear it.

Cass: I don't know if you guys are ready for it, you might not be able to sleep for weeks.

Cathy: We're all adults here... or at least we try be.

Cass: Haha. Ok, so a couple years ago my older sister went on a Match.com date with this guy, they went out to dinner, and she brought him back home with her. So stupid listeners, don't do it.

Cathy: So stupid.

Cathy: So, he came inside, and she started to feel really weird and sick and she was like, "Do you mind leaving, I don't feel very well?" He was super polite, and was like, "Of course", and left. So, she went to bed, everything was normal, and in the middle of the night she woke up because she heard something downstairs. She ran to her bedroom door, locked it, and called the police. A couple minutes later she heard a commotion downstairs and then a knock on her bedroom and she opened it up because it was the police. They told her someone was downstairs, but they got him out, but they still wanted to take her to the hospital to make sure she was Ok. She was like Ok but well, what happened? The police said he wasn't sure she really wanted to hear it and she was like, "No, I definitely want to know. What was it?" So, the guy that she went on a date with, when he was walking out, took her keys, broke back in in the middle of the night, and covered her living room floor, pillows, everything with this plastic wrap and had an alignment of knives, a saw, all these sharp things. He was going to brutally murder her. She later found out at the hospital that there were so many drugs in her system that it was a miracle she woke up. She wasn't supposed to wake up and he would have brutally murdered her.

Cathy: Oh my God.

Cass: I know.

Cathy: his is why we stay away from dating sites people, they're trouble. I tell ya!

Cass: I know, I could have lost my older sister.

Mid Roll:

Cathy: You know what's messier than that murder could have been?

Cass: What?

Cathy: My Children

Cass: Haha, what!?

Cathy: No seriously, this morning the house was spotless but then my son, Jake, doesn't understand how to aim into a toilet and pees all over the seat. My other son, Conor thinks it's normal to stand on the kitchen table with soccer cleats!

Cass: No, nope, not normal at all.

Cathy: I swear to God, if I didn't find Fabuloso my life would be messier than my husband's man cave.

Cass: See, I've never bought Fabuloso. I've never tried it.

Cathy: Fabuloso is absolutely amazing. It literally cleans every surface of my house and it smells AH-mazing you need to try it. So lavender fresh.

Cass: You know what, I bet that man, the one my sister went on a date with, would've used Fabuloso to clean up my sister's living room.

Cathy: Ha, fancy way to clean up a murder.

Outro:

Cass: You know what, let's pause this podcast and go try it out.

Cathy: Think our listeners would mind?

Cass: Uh yeah probably. Ok, so tell us your "Yellow Tape" story of the week.

Cathy: Alright, I'm gonna talk about the man Ted Bundy himself.

Cass: Mhmm love that man, let's hear it!

Cass & Cathy: Haha
